Conversation Guideline

- Hello, oh look more tourists! Welcome to our Royal Souvenir Stand! It is great that you're here, because we need your help! Look, we just opened and it is such a chaos here, can you help us?
- We need to organize the signs for our products, can you sort them out? Here are the signs, could you please read the words out loud and then put them in the right place? You can do it together and we help you!
- Sort out the signs with help from shop keepers (with mimic and gestures)
- Reporter comes: Oh, guys! I have great news! I am so excited! The Princess will come here! Kate Middleton and here little Baby come to the Souvenir Shop!
- Oh really? She comes to us?! ...
- Yeah, we need to welcome them! Let's celebrate and cheer! Do you have enough flags for everybody?!
- Do you want to draw your own flag? So that you can wave it, when the Princess comes! So let's draw flag of the United Kingdom!
- Drawing flags (helping with colours, names of colours, glue, stick)
- Reporter (rolls out the red carpet): Oh there she is! Look, it is Kate Middleton, our Princess! Can you see her?! (Anthem is played)
- Shop Keeper: Oh yeah, can you see her little Baby in her arms? Wave your flags! Yay, there she is!
- Kate: Oh, how lovely! What a nice welcome! ... Is that your flag? Where are you from? Oh from Germany? Do you like London? It is so nice to see you all celebrating and cheering! Do you want to look at my Baby? He is ... month old. Do you want an autograph? Onto your flag? Can you please hold my Baby? Thanks!
- Reporter (takes photos): Smile! Oh that looks brilliant! Can we do a photo of you all together with Kate? Please stand here, ...
- Kate: It was so nice with you! Now I have to go back to my husband William! Back to the Buckingham Palace, that is where I live! Have a nice stay in London! Have fun! See you, Goodbye, everybody!
- Bye, Kate! Say goodbye!
- Shopkeepers: Thanks for your help! You can keep the flags! Have a nice time here! Etc.
